FORT NECESSITY BY: CARLY HALL

In October the fifth grade class went to Fort necessity it was such a great trip. Our first stop was at Jumonville Glen I was getting chills thinking about what had happen at Jumonville Glen. We were creeping through the woods up on Mr. Gerstel's class pretending we were the British sneaking up on the French. The death of the French Office Jumonville set off the French and Indian War. Miss Carr made it feel so real and made me fell so proud to not only line in the United States of America but to be so close to such a major part of American history right in my own state of Pennsylvania.
